Minden is on Highway 35, roughly 200 km northeast of Toronto. To get a general idea of where it is and of how to get there from Toronto, see the map at <http://www.auriga.on.ca/hal/mapbig.html>.

Minden is just to the left of Haliburton in the northeast corner of that map.

The camp is at the end of an 800 m long access road on the east side of County Road 2, as shown on the map at the left. To reach County Road 2 from Highway 35 in Minden, follow any of the Minden exits from Highway 35 to Main Street, then follow Main Street northwest through downtown Minden and across the Gull River bridge. County Road 20, also called Deep Bay Road, is the first street of significant size on the left, and is marked by a sign. The entrance to the camp road is between 5 and 6 km southwest on County Road 20, and is marked by a green University of Toronto Survey Camp sign.
