Emergency Job Posting – Course Instructor Position
Winter Term 2023 (January - April)

The Civil & Mineral Engineering Department at the University of Toronto seeks at least one Course Instructor for the following course:

CIV1506H1S Freight Transportation and ITS Applications
Efficient movement of freight is crucial for national economic viability. This course introduces the structure of the freight industry and relates it to business logistics and planning of supply chains. Planning of freight services at the strategic, tactical, and operational levels is presented and models of international, inter-city, and urban freight movements are introduced. Shipper behavior related to mode choice, carrier selection, adoption of 3-PL and information technology options is considered. The course also introduces the role of advanced technologies (ITS) in improving freight operations, and the implications of e-commerce on planning of freight services. The course concludes by providing an overview of policy issues, data sources and needs, and the particularities of the Canadian freight transportation context.

Qualifications
A postgraduate degree in civil engineering is required. Previous teaching experience preferred.

Relevant Criterion:
Past teaching experience is the more relevant criterion than the need to acquire experience in respect of this posted position.

Duties
• Developing syllabus
• Delivering three hours of lectures per week for the Winter 2023 term
• Providing scheduled office hours for academic counselling of students
• Setting assignments, midterms, and final exams
• Supervising teaching assistants
• Grading final examination papers

Estimate of TA Support: 54 hours
Estimated Course Enrolment: 30 students
Rate of Pay: $8,142.51 (excludes vacation pay)

Final availability of the position is contingent upon enrolment, budgetary consideration and the determination of appointments as governed by the collective agreement.
