Emergency Job Posting – Course Instructor Position
Fall Term 2023 (September - December)

The Civil & Mineral Engineering Department at the University of Toronto seeks at least one Course Instructor for the following course:

CIV531HF Transport Planning
This course is intended to provide the student with the following: the ability to design and execute an urban transportation planning study; a working knowledge of transportation planning analysis skills including introductions to travel demand modelling, analysis of environmental impacts, modelling transportation - land use interactions and transportation project evaluation; an understanding of current transportation planning issues and policies; and an understanding of the overall process of transportation planning and its role within the wider context of transportation decision-making and the planning and design of urban areas. Person-based travel in urban regions is the focus of this course, but a brief introduction to freight and intercity passenger transportation is also provided. A "systems" approach to transportation planning and analysis is introduced and maintained throughout the course. Emphasis is placed throughout on designing transportation systems for long-run environmental, social, and economic sustainability.

Qualifications
A postgraduate degree in civil engineering is required. Previous teaching experience preferred.

Relevant Criterion:
Past teaching experience is the more relevant criterion than the need to acquire experience in respect of this posted position.

Duties
• Developing syllabus
• Delivering three hours of lectures per week for the Fall 2023 term
• Providing scheduled office hours for academic counselling of students
• Setting assignments, midterms, and final exams
• Supervising teaching assistants
• Grading final examination papers

Estimate of TA Support: 200 hours
Estimated Course Enrolment: 50 students
Rate of Pay: $8,142.51 (excludes vacation pay)

Final availability of the position is contingent upon enrolment, budgetary consideration and the determination of appointments as governed by the collective agreement.
